THE UNITED STATES NAVAL ACADEMY

HISTORICAL SKETCH

The United States Naval Academy is an institution of higher education conducted by the Navy Department for the purpose of preparing young men to enter the lowest commissioned ranks of the Navy and Marine Corps. It was founded as the Naval School in 1845 by the Honorable George Bancroft, historian, educator and Secretary of the Navy, to improve the then unsatisfactory methods of instructing midshipmen. It was located at Annapolis, Md., on the site occupied by Fort Severn, which was given up for the purpose by the War Department. At first the course was 5 years, of which only the first and last were spent at the school, the intervening 3 years being spent on board ships on active service. It was reorganized in 1850-51 as the United States Naval Academy, with a course of study of 4 consecutive years. A summer practice cruise replaced the omitted sea service, and gave better opportunities for intensive training. During the Civil War the Academy was moved to Newport, R.I., but was brought back to Annapolis in 1865, where it has since remained. In the following years great improvements were effected in the organization and curriculum. From 1873 to 1912 the academic course was 6 years, the last 2 of which were spent at sea. In 1912 the course was fixed at 4 years, the 2 years at sea being omitted. During the Civil, Spanish-American, and World Wars, the course was shortened to provide more officers for the fleets. During the World Wars large classes of Reserve officers and Reserve midshipmen were trained at the Academy.

The students undergoing the course at the Naval Academy have been called in turn: acting midshipmen, midshipmen, cadet midshipmen and cadet engineers, naval cadets, and since the act of Congress approved July 1, 1902, midshipmen. A midshipman is an officer in a qualified sense. He is appointed a midshipman in the Navy, not merely at the Naval Academy, is subject to the orders and regulations of the Navy Department, but does not now participate in the benefits of retirement or longevity. He may be ordered to sea duty although this is not customary except on practice cruises. He ranks after a commissioned warrant officer, and ahead of a warrant officer. Upon graduation he may be commissioned an ensign in the line of the Navy, or a staff corps, or as a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps. In addition, 18 members of the Class of 1963 were commissioned as second lieutenants in the United States Army and 56 as second lieutenants in the United States Air Force in accordance with Section 541, Title 10, United States Code.

Academic departments were reorganized on June 4, 1959. Under the Superintendent, three academic directors were given cognizance over new departments as follows: Director of Science and Engineering—Mathematics, Science, and Engineering Departments; Director of Social Science and Humanities—English, History, and Government, and Foreign Language Departments; Director of Naval Science—Command, Weapons and Naval Hygiene Departments; and the Commandant of Midshipmen—Executive and Physical Education Departments. At present about 25 percent of the academic work is devoted to the social-humanistic subjects, about 50 percent to the scientific-engineering subjects, and about 25 percent to the military-professional subjects.

Commencing in the academic year 1959-60, a new flexibility was introduced into the Naval Academy curriculum in permitting the validation of prescribed courses and the undertaking of alternate or alternate elective courses in lieu thereof. Another departure from tradition was the substantial broadening of course offerings and the arrangement whereby well qualified midshipmen were permitted to take elective courses in addition to the basic curriculum. Under these arrangements it is now possible for some midshipmen to meet requirements for designation of a major area of concentration.

The Naval Academy Library comprises about 180,000 volumes, with many popular, technical and naval magazines. The collection of naval histories and of naval biographies, of works on the development of various types of ships, of seamanship, navigation, aeronautics, ordnance, and gunnery is especially strong. It is well developed in history, biography, international law and relations, travel, and in reference works, with other subjects in less degree. In addition, a collection of selected current fiction is maintained for recreational reading.

Beginning in the year 1899, following an appropriation of $10 million by Congress for the purpose, the Naval Academy was almost completely rebuilt in the French Renaissance style after the designs of the architect, Mr. Ernest Flagg, of New York. The grounds of the Academy proper now comprise 303.72 acres (Government-owned) and 17.26 acres (leased) along the west bank of the Severn River, on which are 252 buildings with equipment totaling an original cost of $53,353,684.

An act of Congress approved on May 25, 1933, authorized the Superintendent to confer the degree of bachelor of science upon all graduates from and after the date of the accrediting of the Academy by the Association of American Universities. That association had placed the Naval Academy on its approved list on October 25, 1930, and graduates commencing with the class of 1931 became eligible for the degree. By virtue of an act of Congress approved July 8, 1937, the Superintendent is now authorized to confer the degree upon all living graduates.

The total number of graduates of the United States Naval Academy, including the class of 1963 is 32,275.

The administration of the Naval Academy is under the Bureau of Naval Personnel, Department of the Navy, Washington, D. C. Entrance requirements are fully set forth in the pamphlet "Regulations Governing the Admission of Candidates into the United States Naval Academy as Midshipmen," copies of which may be obtained by application to the Bureau of Naval Personnel. A description of the course of instruction is contained in the pamphlet, "Course of Instruction at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.," copies of which may be had by applying to the Academy.

In order to have available a brief, explicit means for identification, course numbers are assigned to each basic and elective course in accordance with the following system:

(a) The letter prefix identifies the department conducting the course.

(b) The first number serves to identify the course as follows: 1 and 5 are 4th class level courses; 2 and 6, 3d class; 3 and 7, 2d class; and 4 and 8, 1st class. A 9 designates a course of a special nature.

(c) The last number: An odd number identifies a course normally taught the 1st semester, and an even number the 2d semester.

(d) The letter suffix is a foreign language designator.

(e) The suffix (x), when it appears with the course number of a course offered by the English, History, and Government Department, is a designator indicating that such an elective included an additional 1-hour credit for research paper on the subject matter of the course involved.

MIDSHIPMEN WHO COMPLETED ELECTIVE OR ALTERNATE COURSES DURING THE ACADEMIC YEAR 1962-63

This report covers midshipmen of all classes who completed elective courses, and midshipmen who validated some portion of the basic curriculum and who completed alternate courses in lieu thereof. If the symbol # follows the catalog designation, it indicates that an unsatisfactory term mark was received.

Courses are identified by their catalog designations and full course titles are given on pp. 113-117.

GENERAL INFORMATION CONCERNING 1963 MIDSHIPMEN SUMMER PROGRAMS

AFLOAT CRUISES

The mission of the 1963 midshipmen cruises was to provide midshipmen with a practical working knowledge of the fleet and the specific ships in which they were embarked, and at the same time to intensify their desire and love for the Navy and the sea.

The objectives of the 1963 cruises were to provide midshipmen with a realistic vehicle for afloat training and the opportunity for visiting various ports throughout the world in order for them to:

- a. develop a sense of attachment to, and pride in, ships and the seafaring way of life.
- b. learn the organization of Navy ships and the responsibilities, duties, and privileges of the fighting men who live on board.
- c. observe the employment, power, and mobility of naval forces.
- d. apply in a sea environment knowledge acquired in the classroom.
- e. broaden their cultural background.

The general training concepts for midshipmen who participated in the 1963 cruises were:

a. Midshipmen First Class were cruised on board fleet ships as midshipmen, but they were assigned to and trained in junior officer billets. They were given opportunities to assume the responsibilities of junior officers in as many departments as practical during their cruise. They were assigned definite duties and responsibilities in these billets commensurate with their training status. Additionally, they were afforded essential wardroom indoctrination by berthing and messing in wardroom facilities to the maximum extent feasible.

b. Midshipmen Third Class were cruised in a Midshipmen Training Squadron which was formed for the express purpose of training USNA midshipmen. The Training Squadron made ports of call in Canada and the eastern U.S. The midshipmen were instructed and, as practical, permitted to assume various duties of ship's enlisted personnel. They were berthed and messed in enlisted spaces and facilities.
